MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Intelligence

FROM: John N. McMahon
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT: Inspection Report on Office of Imagery
Analysis

Bob:

1. You will note from the inspection report that across the board the IG gives high marks to OIA, although there are a number of minor suggestions which, if implemented, would hone that operation. I leave that to you to pursue on your own.

2. One factor that does emerge which I suggest demands immediate attention is the resolution of the grade scale of OIA analysts. The IG shares my previous conclusion that OIA personnel deserved higher grade scales than what they had. Apparently the recent review by PMCD saw little or no relief to that end. However, the inspectors take exception to PMCD's finding. I think that gives you sufficient cause to pursue the subject matter with the Director of Personnel. I would like to see this issue resolved hastily since it's been cooking for far too long already.
